

NEW Construction Photos for Vision Care 4Life!

6/13/2011

Here are the latest construction photos for our new office! As you can see, it is starting to come together!!!

Picture #1: Well, the paint is dry and the carpet is down. There will be a reception desk against the orange wall. The glass window you can see will look into our optical lab – so you can actually watch your glasses being made!

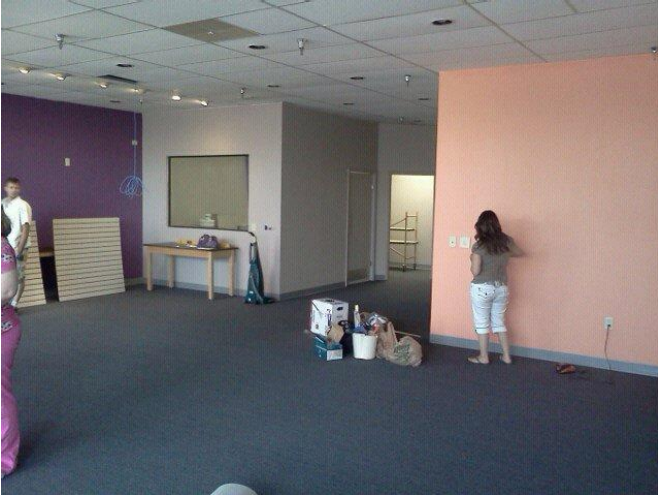

Picture #2: This photo is from the orange wall looking toward the front door – as you can see, we will have MUCH more room at the new office.

Picture #3: Another view of the front space – the boards leaning against the purple wall are some of our optical displays (they are hung now – see below for some pictures of these).

Picture #4: Here are our optical hanging displays. In a few weeks these will be FULL of frames!

Picture #5: These photos show the view down our hallway where the exam rooms are. As you can see, we will, again, have MUCH more room in our new digs!

Thank you so much and keep checking our website for updates and new photos!
